Connally Sees Senate Approval of New Secretary Despite G.O.P. Coolness

Surprise Move

Regarded as the First of Several Changes in Top Personnel

Washington, Jan. 8 (AP)—Senate approval of Dean C. Acheson as Secretary of State was forecast today by Senator Connally (D-Tex.) despite a marked Republican coolness.

Connally told reporters the Senate Foreign Relations Committee—organizing Tuesday under his chairmanship—will set a date for Acheson and James E. Webb to appear personally.

Catching Capitol Hill largely by surprise, President Truman yesterday named Acheson as secretary and moved Webb from his post as Budget Director to that of Undersecretary of State, after reluctantly accepting the resignation of Secretary of State Marshall and his chief aide, Robert M. Lovett.

The move was regarded in Congress as possibly one of the first of several changes in top personnel. Speculation involved the posts of Secretary of Defense Forrestal, Secretary of Interior Krug and Secretary of Commerce Sawyer. Acheson's nomination was forecast on the basis of his personal acquaintance with many senators and the unwritten rule that a president can name almost anybody he chooses to his cabinet.

But there was evidence that some influential Republicans—and a few Democrats—were disappointed at the choice.

Significantly, perhaps, Senators Smith of New Jersey, Fickensmeyer of Iowa and Lodge of Massachusetts, Republican members of the Foreign Relations Group, declined to comment publicly on the change. So did Senator George of Georgia, a Democratic member. The reaction in Congress was considered important not only because it may affect Acheson's confirmation chances, but also because one of his big jobs will be to determine how closely to work with both Republican and Democratic leaders in developing new foreign policy measures.

Marshall and Lovett solved this problem by (a) removing themselves from any part in domestic politics and (b) consistently consulting Senator Vandenberg (Mich.) and John Foster Dulles, both Republican leaders in foreign policy, on every important step they proposed.

Vandenberg led the fight for both the Truman doctrine program of aid to Greece and Turkey and the Marshall Plan for European recovery.

The Michigan senator was out of town when the cabinet change was announced. But friends said he never has listed Acheson as one of his top choices to succeed his great friend Marshall.

There is no evidence that Vandenberg was consulted about the nomination in advance—a reversal of the policy the White House followed when the Republicans controlled Congress.

Vandenberg was one of several top senators who protested vigorously earlier this week that a Democratic move increasing the majority's strength on the Foreign Relations Committee was a blow at two-party conduct of foreign affairs.

The tension was lightened somewhat yesterday when House Democrats kept intact the majority-minority ratio on their foreign group—a step hailed by G.O.P. Leader Martin (Mass.) as a continuation of the spirit of the bipartisan policy.

Had Counterfeits

Hatcheck Girl Gives Police Clue for Arrest of Three in N.Y.

New York, Jan. 8 (AP)—U. S. Treasury agents, working with city police, early today arrested two men and a woman on charges of possessing and passing counterfeit $10 and $20 bills.

The trio was picked up at a downtown Manhattan night club, at 181 Second avenue.

They were identified as Douglas Walker, 43, a longshoreman; his wife, Kathleen, 28, and his brother, Louis, 23, also a longshoreman, all of Brooklyn.

Police said the arrests were the result of a tip from a hatcheck girl, who became suspicious when Mrs. Walker handed her a $20 bill in payment for a small doll, and told her to keep the change.

Church Centennial Program to Start Sunday Morning

Fair Street Reformed Has Religious and Social Events Arranged for Next Week

Sunday the Fair Street Reformed Church will celebrate the 100th Anniversary of its founding. A special service of worship has been planned for 11 a. m. while a steering committee has arranged other events during the week from January 9 through 16, in celebration of the centennial.

It was on this same date January 9, 1849, that the Fair Street Reformed Church was founded, and for 100 years it has occupied the same location, standing at the corner of Fair and Pearl streets.

An interesting note regarding the church's 100 years is the fact that a pastor, still connected with the church, has served it for 50 years. This is the Rev. Dr. F. B. Seeley, pastor emeritus, regarded as one of Kingston's most beloved clergymen, as well as civic leader.

For the Sunday morning service an excellent musical program has been prepared. The Rev. J. Dean Dykstra, pastor, will deliver the anniversary sermon. He has chosen his theme—"Christ in Concrete." There will be a reception of new members and the church will be rededicated in appropriate ceremony. This service is open to the public and an invitation is extended to all to attend. The service will be broadcast over WKNY from 11 a. m. to 12 noon.

Wednesday, Jan. 12, has been set as Community Night. This event is also open to the public. Hubert Hoderath, vice president of the consistory and senior elder, will moderate this meeting. Mayor Oscar Newkirk will bring community greetings and the Rev. Arthur Oudemool will bring church greetings.

The main address will be brought by Robert Bauer, senior pastor of the U. S. Department of State "Voice of America" broadcasts. His topic will be "This Year of Challenge, 1949." Dr. Bauer is a native of Austria and was educated in the University of Geneva and in France.

G.O.P. Leaders Expect That Governor Will Base Budget on Revenue in Sight

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 8 (AP)—A reliable legislative source said today that Governor Dewey's budget probably would approximate $850,000,000, instead of the $900,000,000 that has been the general estimate in administration circles.

The total would be $38,000,000 above the $812,000,000 listed in the budget for the fiscal year ending March 31.

The source said Republican leaders expected the governor to confine his new budget to the amount of revenue anticipated during the fiscal year, plus approximately $121,000,000, the administration plans to get from increased collection rates in the personal income tax and the state's retail gasoline levy.

The governor's budget message will be delivered to the Legislature late this month.

Wu Te-chen Makes Plea for Ambassadors to Take Up Cause; No Comment

Nanking, Jan. 8 (AP)—A usually reliable source said today the Chinese government had asked the United States, French and British governments to attempt to mediate the civil war.

Ambassadors for the three powers here were asked to relay the request to their governments, this source said.

The three ambassadors were called to the foreign office by Foreign Minister Wu Te-chen today. None of the three nor foreign office officials would comment on the subject.

Reliable sources, however, said they were asked to present to their governments a request that "the Big Three" attempt to mediate and obtain a negotiated peace with the Communists.

It was apparent, from the actions of various officials that the question either of mediation or an appeal to the United Nations was under consideration.

Failure to include the Soviet member of the "Big Four" in the summons raised considerable speculation here. It was understood that the Russian ambassador has been shying away from any possible participation in either mediation or discussion of negotiations apparently on orders from Moscow.

The latest development coincided with reports from Tientsin that a heavy Red attack on the besieged city had ended abruptly at noon today after the Communists had occupied sections of the old "Chinese city."

The reports said the garrison commander ordered an immediate mid-day curfew in Tientsin, forbidding Tientsin residents to leave their homes and the streets were empty except for Nationalist troops.

Cessation of firing after the Communists had started what appeared to be a determined effort to capture the city raised speculation here that a "deal" had been arranged for the surrender of Tientsin to the Reds.

Expect Chiang

Taipei, Formosa, Jan. 8 (AP)—Arrival here of three large limousines reportedly belonging to President Chiang Kai-shek revived speculation today that the generalissimo will visit here soon. The automobiles are being reconditioned.

N.Y. City Opposes Consolidation in Hurley Assessment

Gottfried Objects to Kennedy Appointment; Schirick Reserves Decision

Objection on the part of the City of New York was made at special term of Supreme Court Friday to a consolidation motion made on the part of the respondents, the assessors of the Town of Hurley, who sought to have two certiorari proceedings consolidated and heard before Thomas P. Kennedy, district attorney of Columbia county, who has been appointed referee in the first proceeding.

Herman E. Gottfried, appearing for the City of New York, opposed the respondents' motion for consolidation. John E. Egan and N. LeVan Haver appear for the respondents.

New York city has made application for a writ of certiorari directed to the assessors of the town of Hurley, Eugen Maier, J. Leonard Lockwood and Henry Battenfield, seeking to review the assessment of 1948.

Thomas P. Kennedy has already been appointed referee in a certiorari proceeding to review the 1947 assessment of $2,000,000 against New York city property in the Town of Hurley. Hearings in that proceeding have been scheduled for February.

Attorney Gottfried, in opposing the consolidation, stated that the issues in the two proceedings are not the same, since one proceeding relates to the 1947 assessment and the other to the 1948 assessment and the proof offered in one proceeding would necessarily differ from that offered in the other. One proceeding is directed to Wilson Markle and Charles Markle, respondents in the 1947 proceeding who have been replaced as assessors by J. Leonard Lockwood and Henry Battenfield in the 1948 proceeding.

Counsel for the city of New York argued that the 1947 proceeding is at issue and a referee has already been appointed and that the only purpose and effect of the consolidation sought is and would be to appoint the same individual who has been appointed in the 1947 proceeding as referee in the 1948 proceeding.

Mr. Egan argued that the facts are the same, only the names of the assessors have changed.

Asks Motion Be Denied
Mr. Gottfried asked that the motion for consolidation be denied and told Justice Schirick, presiding justice, that granting the motion for consolidation would have the effect of appointing Thomas P. Kennedy referee in both proceedings.

Appointment of Kennedy, who is district attorney of Columbia county, would be improper in that it would prejudice the rights of the relator to have a speedy trial of the proceedings, and Mr. Gottfried pointed out that N. LeVan Haver, one of the attorneys for the respondents, recently has been appointed special prosecutor in Columbia county to assist Mr. Kennedy in the prosecution of the Lawrence Grey Allgood, Richard

Ask T.-H. Repeal; Then Plan New Labor Law

Washington, Jan. 8 (AP)—Five Senate Labor Committee members said today they want the Taft-Hartley Law repealed and the old Wagner Act restored before Congress considers new labor legislation.

Like the A.F.L. and C.I.O., they favor "two package" handling of the main section of President Truman's labor program: One bill to replace the Taft-Hartley measure with the Wagner Act, then, later, a second bill dealing with proposed changes in the Wagner Act.

Some Congress members, like Senator Ives (R-N.Y.), are for a single package approach. And they predict it will turn out that way.

They plan to offer Wagner Act amendments when the proposal to re-enact it comes up on the floor. In the Senate, there is nothing to stop them, but in the House it is possible to bar amendments.

Mr. Truman in his State of the Union message called for Taft-Hartley repeal, re-enactment of the old law and certain "improvements" in it. But he said the "improvements" would be made in two points on which there has been plenty of controversy.

At his news conference yesterday, the President was asked for his views on the matter. He replied that he had made it clear what he wants. How the program is carried out, he said, is up to Congress.

So, a reporter asked Democratic members of the Senate Labor Committee what procedure they favor. They are in the majority on the committee and their views are regarded as certain to prevail in that unit.

Chairman Elbert Thomas (Utah) said: "I favor two steps. 'If we tried to repeal the Taft-Hartley Law and restore the Wagner Act and amend the Wagner Act all in one bill, I am afraid we would never get rid of the Taft-Hartley Law.'"

Sensors Murray (Mont.) and Pepper (Fla.) cited identical reasons for wanting the two package approach.

Senator Hill (Ala.) said: "In theory the one package method is best, but I am afraid it would not be practical. It would take too long. There will be a lot of argument over amendments to the original Wagner Act. Therefore, I am for doing it in two steps."

The administration is believed to favor two steps for this big reason: If amendments to the Wagner Act were included in an all-purpose omnibus bill, and if Mr. Truman did not like the amendments, he could not veto the bill without also killing the repeal measure.

Woodstock Studio Residence Sold

Philip B. Beer Purchases 15-Acre Estate From Walter O'Meara

Walter O'Meara, an executive of J. Walter Thompson, New York, has sold his Woodstock, N. Y., residence and studio, according to previews, Inc., the National Real Estate Clearing House, marketing agents. Philip B. Beer of Jackson Heights purchased the 15-acre estate through Mrs. Lillian Ffolie, Woodstock broker.

The seven-room stone and white board-and-batten house and separate studio building were designed by Albert Graesser, architect, and built for Mr. O'Meara in 1934. Described in House Beautiful as a "Houseful of Good Ideas," the residence incorporates many unusual details and ingenious use of space.

The 28'x17' living room, coiled-pine paneled with beamed ceiling and oak plan floors, is used as a combination living-dining room. There is a Colonial style Dutch-oven fireplace at one end, and at the other a Spanish tile-faced fireplace with a raised hearth, for broiling. Doors lead to flagstone terraces at each end of the room. There is an adjoining pine-paneled study with built-in desk, bookshelves, bunk, and gun closet. There are four bedrooms on the second floor, one with a copper-hooded fireplace, another with a built-in bunk.

The house is set on 15 acres on a laurel planted slope of Overlook Mountain. On one of its three acres there is a stone barbecue grill, a foot of the slope is a tennis court. Near the residence is the 20'x25' studio which has a huge fireplace, and a north skylight. Beyond it is a rustic cabin, pine paneled, with a fireplace. A two-car garage is a part of the main residence.

Genes Photoed

Los Angeles, Jan. 8 (AP)—Genes—microscopic carriers of heredity in all living things—have been seen and photographed by two University of Southern California scientists. They said their achievement, culminating 50 years of research by thousands of scientists in all parts of the world, marks the first time genes have ever been seen or photographed. Ability to see genes, they added, along with disease-carrying viruses that have already been isolated, is expected to advance biological and medical research.

Cases Disposed of At Special Term Before Schirick

Edith Gerro Is Seeking Separation on Grounds of Inhuman Treatment; Other Matters

Edith Gerro seeks from $75 to $100 a week alimony and $750 counsel fees from her husband, Harry Gerro, whom she charges has left her and is living at the home of another woman at Clintondale. The Gerros were married last June and Mrs. Gerro seeks a separation on the grounds of cruel and inhuman treatment, charging that her husband has failed to provide for her and that he has abused her since their marriage. Michael Nardone appears for the plaintiff.

An application for temporary alimony and counsel fees was made before Justice Harry E. Schirick at special term of Supreme Court Friday. Decision was reserved and counsel for defendant was given 10 days to file answering affidavits.

Nardone told the court that Mr. Gerro was living at Clintondale with Mrs. Miller, supporting her and a daughter, whom he charged was the daughter of Mr. Gerro. He told the court that Mrs. Gerro knew about this previous affair and had "forgiven" Mr. Gerro before they were married last June. Nardone told Justice Schirick that Mr. Gerro had agreed to abandon the Clintondale connection but had not done so until the court action was commenced, then he sought to return home. He said Gerro was employed by the New York, New Haven and Hartford

Dewey Says New Code Will Boom State Cheaper Houses

New York, Jan. 8 (AP)—A new statewide building code, permitting cuts in costs of home construction is foreseen by Gov. Thomas E. Dewey.

He says the plan was indorsed yesterday by 60 A.F.L. Construction Workers' Union leaders with whom he conferred here.

Following the conference, Dewey said he is aiming for a program that will bring about widespread construction of homes in the $6,500-to-$7,000 price bracket.

If this is done, he said, "this state will have the biggest boom in its history, and it will last 10 years."

One of the major hurdles, he said, is the existence of obsolete local building codes in some communities that "run up the cost of houses fabulously."

He said the Legislature has the power to suspend all local building codes, and adopt a statewide code for residential housing.

He expressed hope a new state building code, covering new home construction, could be enacted by mid-1949. A complete building code probably could not be drawn up for two years, he said.

As an example of what he called out-dated and cost-boosting local building codes, Dewey said some cities require 16-inch walls when "six inches is all you need."

He said one city which he didn't name, requires a minimum of 1,400 square feet of living space in a home. In a recent state contest for designs of moderate priced homes, he added, none of the eight winners provided more than 1,000 square feet of space.

Dewey's conference with labor leaders here was the first in a series he has mapped out ways of reducing home building costs and stabilizing the construction industry.

The governor said the leaders had assured him they would "do their best to increase productivity." He said that he, in turn, planned to set up a commission to devise a "stagger-the-work" program for housing construction that would keep men in the

Truman Lieutenants Busy on Drive to Up Jobs to 60,000,000 in Nation

May Need Controls

Republicans Are Asking for Longer Study of Extensive Program

Washington, Jan. 8 (AP)—Democrats seeking an answer to high prices assured business today there will not be "another wartime O.P.A."

At the same time one party leader called for an investigation of "middlemen" to see if they are keeping the cost of living high.

These developments came as President Truman's Capitol Hill lieutenants confidently oiled the legislative machinery for a quick drive to write into law major parts of his economic program aimed at 60,000,000 jobs and continued production peaks.

But Democrats appeared far from certain new price controls would be wise, even on the selective and standby basis called for by Mr. Truman.

And a noisy bi-partisan protest came from some farm state lawmakers over the endorsement by the President's economic advisers of flexible farm price supports, which might permit declines in price floors next year.

They said the President himself is committed to "full parity" for farmers.

Chairman Maybank (D-S.C.) of the Senate Banking Committee proposed a far-flung inquiry into middleman operations—to find out what causes the wide spread between what a producer receives and what a consumer pays.

Consumer Pays

He told reporters he wants to know why, for instance, cotton print cloth at the mills is below 104¢ O.P.A., ceilings yet "the consumer is paying a hell of a price."

Maybank said "I don't think another O.P.A. is the answer," but he added that "some stand-by controls may be necessary."

Senator Sparkman (D-Ala.) said that because some prices "have begun to wobble" he had hoped Mr. Truman would not find it necessary to ask for controls. But he indicated that if the need can be shown he will go along with the President.

Mr. Truman, in his economic report to Congress yesterday, declared that profits are swollen to excess and that "dangerous inflationary forces" still imperil the economy.

He renewed his call for (a) $4,000,000,000 in new taxes; (b) an eight-point economic program including stand-by allocation, price and wage powers; (c) a vast housing program; and (d) continuation of rent controls for two years in strengthened form.

Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.), slated to head the Senate-Economic Committee, called the program "constructive and positive" and designed to "preserve the prosperity of the whole country in the best American traditions."

No O.P.A. Proposal

Nobody is proposing "another wartime O.P.A.," he said. A Senate Republican chief meanwhile sounded a note of caution. Senator Saltonstall (Mass.), assistant G.O.P. floor leader, told a reporter:

"The conclusions and recommendations of the President are so extensive they require a lot of study. Only after very careful consideration by every member of Congress can we be sure of a"

Sunday's guest preacher who will preach on the subject, "Our Manifestation to This Age," pursued post-graduate work at Yale and Columbia, Yale and New York University. During his long pastorate in Flushing, he has held many vital posts including the presidency of the Queens Federation of Churches, general chairman of the radio committee of the Church Federation of Greater New York; one of the original five of the strategy committee appointed by the Church Federation of New York which brought about the formation of the Protestant Council of the City of New York.

The Rev. Dr. Hall also has served as vice-president of the Protestant Council for three years, served as chairman of the public relations division of the Bishop's Committee from 1933 to 1936, and as a member of the council and planning committee of the Queensboro Tuberculosis and Health Association.

Dr. William Carner Cain, pastor of the church, is participating during the month of January in a seminar in New York conducted by national leaders of industry, management and labor under the auspices of the Presbyterian Institute of Industrial Relations.

Twenty of the younger clergy of the denomination in the country have been invited to take part in this study of the American scene as it is viewed by outstanding representatives of industry, management and labor. The series of studies is one of the important features of the "Program of an Understanding Advance" by the Presbyterian Church in America.

Dr. Cain will return to his pulpit on January 30 when he will preach the fourth Epiphany sermon on the subject, "Who Is the Spirit of Truth?"

Presbyterians Hold Elections; to Have Movie on Sunday

An increase of from nine to 12 members was voted during the annual corporate and congregational meetings of the First Presbyterian Church this week.

The following trustees were elected: Robert C. Murray, Harlow S. Shultz, Jr., re-elected for three-year terms; William R. Clements, Chester A. Miller, elected for three-year terms; Raymond Cauntz, two years; and Chester A. Baltz, Jr., one year.

Those elected for the office of ruling elder were Arthur Monell, former elder; Horace Oaks and J. Gordon Pirie. The latter two will be ordained at a future date.

During the meeting the congregation adopted a budget which provided increases in salary for the Rev. William J. McVey, pastor; Miss Edna Merrihew, organist and choir director; and Clarence Blackwell, sexton. The receipts of current expenses and benevolences showed an increase over previous years.

A favorite hymn sing and moving picture program will be presented Sunday at 7:45 p. m. at the church under the auspices of the Westminster Fellowship, a high school group of the church. The moving picture with sound, entitled "My Name Is Han," a recent production of the Protestant Film Commission, is the story of a simple Chinese peasant portrayed by an all Chinese cast. After seeing all the kind and practical things that Christ-inspired missionaries accomplish, "Han" decides that he, too, will become a Christian. This timely and inspiring picture is a "must" for all those interested in any way in the far flung life and work of the church.

Following the opening word of welcome and prayer by Miss Dorothy Wilson, president of the Fellowship, Chester A. Miller, will lead the congregation in the singing of favorite hymns, suggested by any member of the congregation. Miss Edna Merrihew, organist and choir director, will be at the organ; and George A. Mustaparta, a ruling elder, will operate the moving picture machine.

There will be no admission charge but a free will offering will be received. The public is invited.

Costly Diseases

According to one source, rheumatic diseases cost the American people about $750,000,000 a year in lost wages, relief payments and doctor bills.

There were approximately 1,000,000 displaced persons in Europe at the end of 1946.

A true and interesting fact is that unless it had proven value and merit, no amount of advertising could possibly have built up the reputation that FATHER JOHN'S MEDICINE has earned and maintained since 1855 for the relief of coughs due to colds by its soothing effect on the throat.

Religious Radio Programs

Under the auspices of the Kingston Ministerial Association, in cooperation with Station WKNY, the following broadcasts of Christian faith and life will be presented during the coming week: The morning devotion, Monday through Friday, at 8:45 a. m., will be conducted by the Rev. John Dykstra of the Hurley Reformed Church. His subject for the series of devotional messages will be "The Kingdom of God." Saturday, at 8:45 a. m., the International Sunday school lesson for the following day will be presented, leader, to be announced.

Bedroom Lavatory Relieves Pressure On Main Bathroom

One of the most practical ways of providing additional washing facilities in many of the older homes is by the installation of a lavatory or wash basin in one or more of the bedrooms, says the Plumbing and Heating Industries Bureau.

Because fine vitreous china lavatories, with their lustrous finish, are fully as attractive as the best furniture, there is no reason why a lavatory should not be in a bedroom. A well designed lavatory harmonizes with the finest surroundings.

Equipped with a wide ledge serving as a convenient shelf for cosmetics, a medicine cabinet with mirror and tubular shadowless fluorescent lighting, the lavatory in a bedroom serves the dual purpose of a wash basin and a dressing table. The bedroom lavatory helps to relieve pressure on the main bathroom.

In one home which was recently modernized, lavatories were installed in the corners of two adjoining bedrooms. A small bathroom was placed between the two bedrooms. There are two fixtures in the bathroom—a shower cabinet and a water closet. All four fixtures are closely grouped for piping economy.

Forced Ventilation

Most basement recreation rooms cannot be well ventilated by natural means. Windows are necessarily high, and stale air, which is heavier than fresh air, falls to the floor and is trapped. A ventilating fan or some other form of forced draft should be installed in such rooms.

Small-Size Interiors Given Roomy Look

The trend to small houses calls to mind a few simple hints to make small-size interiors appear roomy and comfortable. Avoid bright or dark walls which seem to advance, diminishing the apparent size of the rooms. Light wallpapers of restful designs which convey a "looking through" illusion, make rooms feel larger.

All-over carpeting emphasizes the maximum floor space. If there are several small windows on one wall, clever use of drapery treatment over all of them will make the windows appear as one unit and will increase the width of the wall.

In the dining room, one of the modern, compact extension tables, which can be placed at the side of the room, will lend extra space for a piano or conversational group, creating a second living room.

Insulation Is Helpful Over Heating Plant

Wood floors in rooms directly over heating plants may develop cracks as a result of excessive heat, unless they are insulated.

Flooring specialists advise protecting such floors by placing insulating board or double weight building paper between the joists of the basement ceiling in the affected area. Standard insulating board about one-half inch thick, 30-pound asphalt felt or 30-pound asbestos felt is satisfactory.

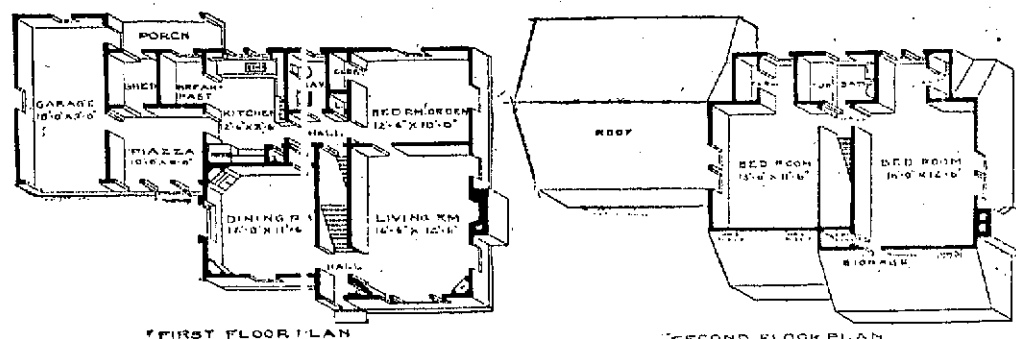

The job is not difficult and may be done in an old as well as a new building. Simple precautions such as this in caring for good flooring of oak or other hardwood are more than repaid in the long years of service they render.

Essential Broom Closet Can Be Installed Easily

Tall narrow closets designed for the storage of brooms, mops, and vacuum cleaners are becoming increasingly common in modern homes, but the valuable service they offer need not be denied to the housewife whose home was built a decade or more ago.

It is simple and inexpensive matter to install broom closets in existing homes, and the efficiency which they will contribute to the kitchen will more than likely repay any home owner who undertakes the job.

Size 29'-0" x 28'-0" Garage and Breezeway extra Cubage, House only 17,200 feet.

Colonial Home Can Be Built in Installments

Completed Dwelling Has a Wealth of Conveniences

Many persons are on the lookout for a house which will meet immediate needs and which can be added to later as family requirements increase.

Such a house is "The Burrville," the Home of the Week from the Home of the Week Plan Service. In its complete form this modern Colonial cottage has all the essentials for comfortable living—a six-room dwelling with a wealth of conveniences, all compactly assembled within a 29 x 28-foot structure, plus an additional 20 feet for the breezeway and garage.

The house has a cubic content of 17,200 feet; the garage adding 3,300 cubic feet to this figure. A lot with a 60-foot frontage, or a corner lot at least 50 feet in depth, is needed for a house of this size.

The Main House
This attractive home can be built in easy stages. First will come the main house, with the second floor left unfinished. On the first floor will be living room, dining room, kitchen, lavette for a full bathroom, if preferred, and one bedroom.

When the second floor is completed, it will add two more bedrooms and bath. The next addition would be the breezeway, creating a breakfast nook and a shed which might be made into a laundry. Lastly, the garage could be built adjoining the breezeway.

The completed house is of simple design. Use of narrow clapboards on the front, and of wide clapboards or shingles on the other walls, gives a pleasing contrast. The set-backs of the main house and breezeway—garage wing break the long expanse of the building and the picture window on the front, and the square bay at the side, are pleasing architectural touches.

Coat Closet in Entry Hall

The front door opens on a small entry hall which has a coat closet at the right. Straight stairs to the second floor are closed off by a mirror-paneled door. Arches

The living room measures 16½ x 12½ feet. The picture window, with small casements at either side which can be swung open for ventilation, dominates the front wall. The window is flanked by a built-in bookcase in one corner and a shallow, decorative niche in the angular wall of the opposite corner. A fireplace with flush mantel is centered in the long outside wall, with windows at either side. In the inside end wall of the room a door opens into the floor bedroom or den.

From the 12½ x 10-foot chamber another door opens on an L-shaped hall which before reaching the kitchen passes the stairway to the basement, a linen closet opposite and the lavette. Combination kitchen and dining room is through this hall instead of directly between the two rooms. The kitchen, measuring 12½ x 8½ feet, is efficiently planned with abundant counter and cabinet space convenient to stove and refrigerator. There is a broom closet, and a door with glazed upper panel opens from the kitchen to the screened-in porch to make open-air dining there possible in summer.

Breakfast Nook Off Kitchen

The breakfast nook, off the kitchen, has a window looking out on the open rear porch and back yard. Doors from the porch give access to the shed and the garage.

The dining room with its shallow bay and two built-in corner china cabinets is most pleasant and, with proper choice of wall-papers, could be a very colorful room.

The second floor plan calls for a master bedroom measuring 16 x 12½ feet, with two clothes closets and under-the-eaves storage space; a smaller bedroom, 13½ x 11½ feet, with a large closet and under-eaves drawer storage; and a modern bathroom. Both bedrooms have windows on two exposures.

The full basement could be planned to place heating system under the living room and laundry equipment under the kitchen, partitioning off the rest of the space as desired for hobby, storage or recreational use. A bulkheaded exit to the rear yard could be included in the construction contracts.

The entire house—walls and second floor room ceilings—should be insulated and the architect recommends a forced hot water or steam heating system.

Complete plans and specifications for this "Home of the Week," or any other design of this series, are available at moderate cost. To ascertain the exact price of these documents, write to the Home Building Editor, and enclose a self-addressed envelope bearing a 3-cent stamp. At least one week should be allowed for a reply.

Smooth Walls In Bathrooms

Hardly a material for bathroom walls and floors is in the picture now which hasn't a smooth, easy to clean, water resistant surface.

Some of the popular materials are much more costly than others, some are more beautiful and vastly more enduring. There is a wide range of prices, and a difference, of course, in quality.

But whether you pay much or little for your bathroom and kitchen walls and floors, you can select those which will make your rooms easy to clean.

Wall papers are definitely washable, and so are the enameled finishes which include paint, varnish or lacquer applied over wood. For shower stalls and for treatment around over-the-tub-showers, there are a host of waterproof materials: ceramic tile, glass, marble, and ash.

Stains Are Caused By Leaky Faucets

There is nothing more annoying to the home owner than leaking faucets which release a monotonous drip for 24 hours of the day. In addition to the annoying sound, leaky faucets frequently cause stains on the fixtures. Underlying cause behind the drip is usually a worn-out valve or one loosely connected. When old plumbing fixtures start leaking and the flow of water becomes a mere trickle, it is usually wise to bring the system up to date with new piping and fixtures.

Noise Killer

Besides serving as a combination structural material and protection against heat and cold, insulating board also acts as a noise killer. Its fibrous construction retards passage of sound. Made in a variety of styles and sizes, it can be used for many building purposes, including interior finish for walls and ceilings.

Insulation Cures Ice-Box Rooms

Many homes are afflicted with a room that in winter becomes a veritable oversized icebox. Usually they have two outside walls, two to four windows, and are reached by the longest heating pipes.

The unfortunate condition often can be remedied by installing tight fitting storm windows, and by refinishing the room with insulating board. The board is ideal for the purpose in providing both insulation and a new interior finish.

Insulation board is made in a wide range of shapes, sizes and colors, making possible an infinite variety of attractive and comfortable interiors.

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, JANUARY 8, 1949

ATTEND RAILROAD HEARING

Residents of Kingston and Ulster county, who will be affected directly or indirectly by the further removal of trains from the West Shore Division of the New York Central Railroad, are urged to attend the public hearing on the removal of Trains 2 and 3 at the Ulster County Court House on Monday, beginning at 10:30 a. m.

The local organized opposition to the removal of trains will be represented by spokesmen and other communities are expected to send representatives to the hearing. But this is not enough. All individuals concerned, who possibly can do so, should attend the hearing and file statements in protest. The hearing will be conducted by the Public Service Commission and the statements filed personally will be used by the Commission in its decision.

There has been wide complaint over the service offered by the New York Central on the West Shore Division for many years, but it has been futile. Passenger service on the Weehawken to Albany run has become increasingly worse. The trains are old and the station has not been improved.

Although the service to the communities it is supposed to serve is very poor, the West Shore Railroad has its importance in the welfare and progress of these communities. In view of this fact and based on the theory that half a loaf is better than none at all, local residents and especially the businessmen of the community should bestir themselves and attend the hearing and be prepared to file statements in protest of the further curtailment of its passenger service.

SOVIET SCIENCE

In Russia scientific laws are not what scientists have worked out and found to be true. They are doctrines which the Politburo approves. This is somewhat as if we should deny that the mixture of sodium and chlorine produces common salt because it ran counter to a clause in the Republican or Democratic party platform.

This is the lesson of the present quarrel which the Russian biologists have picked with those of other nations. In the West biologists believe that acquired characteristics are not inherited by future generations. If a bear breaks a leg in a trap and goes lame ever after, its offspring will not be born lame.

The Russians are told to think otherwise. They think that improvements in environment will radically change the human stock in two or three generations. An advocate of this theory, Trofim Lysenko, has been officially pronounced a model whose views all must follow. Russian biologists have been compelled to agree with him, or perhaps he executed, as many of them have been.

This unwillingness to accept the teachings of foreign science reveals a serious weakness in the Russian rulers. They are building on an unsound foundation, and deprive their nation of the fullest benefits of scientific progress. Being afraid to face facts has never done man or nation any good.

Outside of Japan there will be mourning over the hanging of Tojo, one of the most ruthless practitioners of a ruthless system. And in Japan he must be regarded as the author of his country's ruin, without whom his nation might have become the greatest in Eastern Asia.

No monuments have been erected to the man who invented winter.

BEING CANADIAN

Canadians are not sufficiently Canada-conscious, says Vincent Massey, the first Canadian minister to the United States and for eleven years Canadian High Commissioner, the equivalent of ambassador, at London. He would have Canada adopt a national flag and a national anthem, and establish a national museum, a national publicity organization and a national creed.

What is his idea? Apparently he is alarmed by the drawing power of the United States. He fears Canadians might continue to have their own government, but in all other respects be assimilated to American

AMERICAN IMPERIALISM

M. Urnov, writing on "Howard Fast and America," gives Howard Fast the build-up as one of America's foremost literary lights and social philosophers. If you have never heard of Howard Fast, he is a Communist who has had a brush with the law and is therefore a martyr. He has written biography and fiction with a Marxist slant and is now a columnist for the Daily Worker.

Now, I do not wish to devote this space to Fast, but to Urnov, who, writing in a Soviet publication, has this to say about our country:

"While the Soviet army in combat with the Nazi hordes decided the outcome of the Second World War, the American monopolists were watching new political and military adventures. After the defeat of German Fascism, Wall Street openly assumed the criminal role of a new pretender to world dominion, and the United States took its place at the head of the anti-democratic and imperialist camp. In order to substantiate its aggressive aspirations, American reaction let loose a torrent of mendacious, arrogant propaganda trumpeting the 'achievements' of American bourgeois democracy in the past and the present."

Apparently, the United States was not in the last war at all. That was just propaganda! The Battle of the Bulge never took place. We never fought in the Pacific. We never threw the bomb at Hiroshima or Nagasaki. We never spent more than $300,000,000,000; we never provided lend-lease, $11,000,000,000 of it to the Russians. Not we came into it only after the Soviet army beat the Nazi hordes! The Russians never begged us for a second fight nor influenced us to reject Winston Churchill's now demonstrably sound plan of going into Nazi Germany through the Balkans, which would have saved us from the perils of the Iron Curtain!

That apparently is what the Russians have been told and believe. They have not been told that we contributed 70 per cent of all the expenditures of UNRRA, or that we are contributing about $5,000,000,000 a year to reconstruct Europe and Asia.

Nor have they been told that the United States has come out of this costly and disastrous war without acquiring an inch of territory, Soviet Russia has seized more than a dozen countries and has dominated a vast multitude of peoples, many of whom are totally enslaved not only to Russia physically, but mentally and spiritually. Nor have they been told that their country maintains in every nation a spying, subversive, poisonous Fifth Column which is a direct interference in the internal life of a people. The Russians apparently have been told none of that.

These Russians somehow have been made to believe that the United States is nearing the end of its history. Discussing Fast's novel, "The American," Urnov uses a curious phrase:

"The action of 'The American' takes place in the second half of the 19th century, chiefly in the latter decades, when capitalism was entering upon its highest and final stage—the stage of imperialism."

Of course, Marxists believe in the mysticism of "inevitability," they are more dogmatic than the most bigoted fundamentalist in religion, accepting on faith that the Marxist prognosis must be correct, no matter what the facts may be. And one of their assumptions is that "American bourgeois democracy" has "inevitably" degenerated and is now in its final stage. The next stage is economic disaster, to be followed by a workers' revolution and finally by a Soviet republic affiliated with the mother country, Russia.

All this would not be worthy of comment were it only accepted as correct by Russians. The fact is that a large number of Americans—an increasingly large number of our young people—noting the success of the Russian effort in Europe and Asia, the astonishing lack of intelligence in the State Department, the current inadequacy of the American political thought, are turning to the Marxist concept of "inevitability." The fact that the Harold Ware cells spread through the highest intellectual strata of official Washington—brought to the surface by the Chambers-Hiss case—cannot be ignored. It must be studied, analyzed, debated and a solution found as to how to re-teach America to Americans.

That Body of Yours
By James W. Barton, M.D.

TREATMENT OF RHEUMATISM

Because bed rest has been found to be the proper treatment for practically all ailments, there lately has been considerable criticism because resting in bed "all" the time not only lowers the morale of the patient, but also interferes with appetite, digestion and causes constipation. We have been reading lately about the excellent results now being obtained by surgeons who allow their patients to be up a few days after operation, and are sent home in 10 days instead of remaining in the hospital three weeks.

That patients with the usual or common type of rheumatism—rheumatoid arthritis—should not be given complete rest in bed for weeks or months, is another suggestion made by some physicians who do special work in rheumatic diseases. They point out that lying in bed all the time causes stiffness and sometimes complete hardening of the tissues about the joint, so that motion of the joint is completely lost.

While it is true that complete rest in bed with no motion of the joints will cause stiffness of the joints, Dr. Theodore Bevier Bayles, Boston, in "Medical Clinics of North America," states that bed rest does not mean that the patient should not be exercised. With the patient resting in bed—which prevents the weight of the body from setting up further irritation or inflammation—motion of joints and muscles can be kept up by heat, light or passive movement (massage comes later). These measures not only keep joints loosened up, but also keep up the strength and tone of the muscles which otherwise would waste to a great extent from disuse.

Dr. Bayles outlines the body mechanics and exercises as used at the Robert Breck Brigham Hospital, Boston. Exercises in the lying-down position, up and standing positions give the entire body exercise to loosen up all the joints and maintain a good circulation of the blood. Then exercises are given for spinal joints, followed by exercises in a tank of water. The exercises are given three times a day. The usual medical and diet treatment is, of course, given.

life. The only antidote, in Massey's opinion, is greater national pride.

Massey is clearly disturbed by what he sees among his fellow-countrymen. Americans on the other hand would not have thought Canadians insufficiently proud of their nation. If they really are, then Massey's suggestions are only skin-deep. Canada might adopt them all, and have no more national feeling than it had before. True patriotism is a matter of the heart, and not of accessories. Canadians have much of it.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round
By Drew Pearson

Washington—Beneath all the official crust Harry Truman is a deep-down sentimentalist. It was this sentimental side that impelled him to slip up to Speaker Sam Rayburn's office after the formal opening of Congress. The President wanted to relive a moment of history, close to his heart.

The story goes back to a fateful afternoon in 1945—April 12. Harry Truman, then Vice President, hustled over to Rayburn's office for a legislative huddle. A few others were called in—House majority leader John McCormack, Congressman Lyndon Johnson of Texas, now a Senator, Congressman Wright Patman, also of Texas, and House parliamentarian Lewis Deschler.

It was a little after 5 o'clock before Vice President Truman showed up. A message was already waiting for him to call the White House. He took a seat, picked up the telephone, and sent a silent voice answer. It was Presidential secretary Steve Early. "Come to the White House quickly and quietly," he said.

Harry Truman hurried down Pennsylvania Avenue. At the White House he heard the tragic news. Dazed and humble, he first tried to call Alben Barkley, Senate majority leader. Barkley couldn't be reached. Truman couldn't be reached. This time he got an answer, and the first man to talk to the new President was Sam Rayburn.

History Re-Enacted

Nearly four years later, after President's Truman's re-election, he invited Rayburn to relax with him at Key West.

"Do you still have that private room up on The Hill?" was the first thing Truman asked.

"Yes," nodded the egg-bald Texan.

"Well," mused the President, "I'll drop in about 5 o'clock on the day of your inauguration."

So the day Rayburn was sworn in again as Speaker, he quietly gathered the same group into his familiar back-office. He also brought in a few special friends—Vice President Alben Barkley, Chief Justice Fred Vinson, Attorney General Tom Clark, Secretary of the Air Force Stuart Symington and Secretary of the Senate Los Biffle.

A few minutes before 5 o'clock, the President was whisked up to the door by his Secret Service guard. Bowed and solemn, he picked out the chair he had sat in April 12, 1945. Settling into the same chair, he recalled the incident when he first became President.

Dutch Sneak Attack

One thing that burned up the American people at the time the Japs attacked Pearl Harbor was the way Ambassador Kuriwasa was kept in Washington pretending to negotiate right up to Dec. 7.

Though it's supposed to be a diplomatic secret, the unpleasant truth is that the Dutch pulled somewhat the same strategy before they attacked the Indonesian Republic.

On Dec. 14, four days before the Dutch sneak attack, Dutch Ambassador van Kieffens handed the State Department a pious-sounding note indicating that it just loved the Indonesian Republic and wanted to make the magnanimous gesture of allowing American textiles to be shipped to the Republic, despite the fact that Dutch ships hitherto had enforced a blockade.

Last October, the State Department had approached the Dutch with a proposal that American textiles be shipped through the Dutch blockade to the Republic. After a long delay the Dutch replied, Dec. 14. OK'd shipment of the textiles and talked about the humanitarian attitude of the Dutch government.

Actually, at that very time the Dutch already knew they were going to make a most unhumanitarian attack and had piled up American materials to be ready for it.

Text of Note

"This column has been able to obtain a copy of the hitherto confidential note—and it didn't come from either Hiss or Chambers. The note stated:

"The Netherlands Ambassador presents his compliments to the Honorable Acting Secretary of State and has the honor to refer to the conference on October 7, 1948, at which were present Messrs. Nolting, Lacey of the Department of State, Messrs. Zimmerman and Semiotro, with regard to the shipment of textiles to the Republic of Indonesia as well as the memorandum of October 20 submitted by Mr. Zimmerman to the Department of State."

"The Netherlands Ambassador has now been instructed to inform the Acting Secretary of State that the Government of Indonesia is prepared to cooperate with the action in question. The Government of Indonesia is willing within the limit of the regulation now in force and with the right of taking all supervisory measures deemed necessary—to cooperate in order to have these measures carried out smoothly and efficiently. In this connection inspection, before loading aboard ship, in the U.S.A. of the merchandise to be shipped to the Indonesian Republic would be useful, although such action would not preclude further inspection on arrival in Indonesia."

The Dutch Ambassador then continued with a lengthy and pious explanation of how "for humanitarian reasons" the Dutch themselves "offered prompt assistance" in the way of textiles "to relieve distress" in the Indonesian Republic.

Four days later, however, they relieved stress with a fusillade of artillery and an advance of Dutch infantry, built up chiefly through Marshall Plan aid from the United States.

No wonder the State Department, burnt up, wrote one of the most blistering notes to the Dutch since Cordell Hull blasted Ambassador Kuriwasa.

New Hampshire Senators Feud

A bitter rift has come between New Hampshire's two Republican Senators—Styles Bridges and Charles Tobey, both good men.

Their personal feelings almost came to a head on the Senate floor the other day when Bridges was lining up to be sworn in for another six-year term. It is customary for the Senator who is taking the oath to be accompanied by his colleague from the same state.

When Bridges' name was called out, he tapped Tobey on the shoulder and whispered for him to come. But Tobey didn't budge. Bridges waited a moment, then thumping Tobey's desk, he whispered again: "Are you coming Charlie?"

Tobey hesitated a moment, then jumped up and finished the ceremony at Bridges' side.

War 2 American
Spy Will Speak
At Dinner Club

MAJOR PAUL CYR

Major Paul Cyr, young American spy and hero of World War 2, will be the speaker for the Kingston National Dinner Club Thursday night, 6:30 p. m., at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

Being one of Gen. Wild Bill Donovan's Cloak and Dagger boys, Paul Cyr was given only one chance in a hundred to come back alive. He was the first American to be dropped behind enemy lines in France where he implemented every trick known to espionage.

With wit and humor he will tell of his hair-breadth escapes from the Gestapo during his six months work with the French Maquis. He was of great assistance to General Patton and has been awarded the Legion of Honor, Croix de Guerre and the Distinguished Service Cross.

In May 1945, young Cyr was sent into Japan-held territory where, with the help of the Chinese guerrillas, he was commissioned to blow up the Yellow river bridge, "the hottest target in China."

Eighteen hundred Jap troops tumbled to their death through the 150-yard hole his men left in the bridge. For this work he was awarded the Bronze Star. His article, "We Blow the Yellow River Bridge" was featured in the Saturday Evening Post, March 27, 1946. Cyr was discharged on the fourth anniversary of Pearl Harbor.

Y.W.C.A. News

Interest Groups Started

At the regular meeting of Junior Married Women's Club Thursday night the interest groups were started. Mrs. C. C. Stickles in the absence of the president, presided at the short business meeting. The resignation of Mrs. Roger Bilings as chairman of the library program, was received. The date of the next meeting has been changed from the 20th to the 27th because of the Y.W.C.A. annual meeting on the 20th.

The four interest groups which met were sewing and the direction of Mrs. C. Robert Anderson; bridge, Mrs. C. Vandeventer; knitting, Mrs. Hugh Elwyn; reading, Mrs. C. C. Stickles. The music appreciation group was not formed because of the small number interested. Mrs. Max Bruggmann had agreed to lead this group.

A food sale is planned for this month under the direction of Mrs. Thomas Matheisen.

Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. Vincent Guido, chairman, Mrs. William Reardon, Mrs. Henry Drowsowski and Mrs. George Cook.

Band P. Club

An executive meeting of the new officers, chairmen and co-chairmen of the various committees, was held to make plans for the year. All girls intending to be at the next meeting, Wednesday, are requested to make reservations by Monday evening. At this meeting initiation of new members will be held.

Music Appreciation

The Music Appreciation Group of the Y. W. C. A. Women's Club met Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Helen Fenger of Albany avenue.

After a short business meeting, a program was presented by Mrs. Boyd N. Williams and Mrs. Robert Pixley.

Mrs. Williams gave a talk on the life and compositions of Modest Petrovich Moussorgsky, a Russian composer who lived from 1835 to 1881. Moussorgsky, she reported, was a direct descendant of the legendary founder of the Russian kingdom. Born to musical parents, in moderate circumstances, he had little training, practicing music as an amateur while working as a government clerk. Music was not encouraged in Russia at that time and previously, there was no Russian music. French and German music was played in court circles.

Only two of Moussorgsky's compositions were played in Russia during his lifetime. Mrs. Williams pointed out. However, his works have increased in popularity with the years, while those of Rimsky-Korsakoff with whom he was closely associated, have declined. His best known opera, "Boris Godunov" is now standard opera repertory.

Mrs. Williams played recordings from this opera made by the Victor Symphony Orchestra with Nicolai Berezovsky conducting, and Alexander Kipnis, soloist. As an example of his orchestral music, she played a recording of "Night on Bald Mountain," by Pittsburgh Symphonic Orchestra, Reiner, conductor.

Mrs. Pixley read a paper on the contemporary Russian composer, "Nicholas Andreievich Rimsky-Korsakoff—1844 to 1908. He also was born into a family with a moderate income and ran away at an early age to join the navy. While a midshipman, he wrote the first of three symphonies and later 18 operas, a manual of orchestration which is still in use, and an autobiography, "My Musical Life." Korsakoff was a perfectionist. Mrs. Pixley noted. She concluded with recordings from his Symphonic suite, "Scheherazade," Opus 35, played by the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra, Pierre Monteux, conductor.

Tea was served by the hostesses, Mrs. Raymond Woodard and Mrs. Kenneth Kukuk with Mrs. Richard Morse presiding at the tea table.

The next meeting will be held

January 20 at the home of Mrs. Vincent Connolly.

WEDDING PHOTOGRAPH ENCLOSED WITH ANNOUNCEMENTS

The account I gave several weeks ago of the picture of the bride and groom taken at their wedding in Paris, enclosed in the announcements to their relatives and intimate friends over here, has met with an unusual number of letters from my readers asking whether this might initiate a custom.

Enclosing a small bridal photograph would be a very happy idea in similar cases where the marriage takes place at too great a distance for home friends and even many members of their families to be present.

Courtesy Versus Age

Dear Mrs. Post: I've been criticized for not getting up to greet an older woman. But I don't think it's exactly kind to her, as I myself am past 30 now and it's a stranger when an older woman feels like to have someone my age jump up. What is your feeling about this?

Answer: When you are hostess, you must get up to greet everyone. And it would be a natural impulse to rise to greet a lady who crosses the room to greet you, whether she is young or old. But when casually introduced to a stranger joining the group in which you are seated, you would be quite right not to rise.

Ready, but Not Necessarily Waiting

Dear Mrs. Post: I am told by my mother that it is very rude for me not to be ready and waiting to open the door when I expect a boy to call for me. Is this true?

Answer: Of course you should be ready! And if there is no one else to open the door but your parents, it certainly would be better than to expect one of them to do it.

Reception Route

Dear Mrs. Post: The place we have engaged to have my wedding reception is very difficult to find. Only people who live here would know how to get to it. Would it be in bad taste to enclose a small map showing the way from all main highways?

Answer: It is a perfect thing to do and not unusual.

Mrs. Post's new leaflet, "E-30, Table Settings," is now available. To obtain a copy, send five cents in coin and a stamped self-addressed envelope to her, care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, P.O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. (Released by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Not all winter automobile accidents happen while driving. Some of them happen while getting started. Records show that carbon monoxide is a deadly killer. Yet some people persist in warming up their cars in a closed garage. Don't take a chance with this killer that gives no warning! Never let the motor run in a closed place. And be sure the exhaust system does not allow carbon monoxide gas to leak into the car.

Food prices are high, there is no doubt about that. What the investigators fail to reveal is that what people pay for food is directly related to industrial wage scales and the short work week. The number of farmer's cars parked around industrial plants means something.

Gliding gently in a bus over an ice-coated street into the rear of another vehicle is nearly as frightening as doing the same thing in your own car.

Papa—Now, Bobby, if you only had a little more spunk you would stand better in your class. Now, do you know what spunk is?

Bobby—Yes, sir. It's the past participle of spunk.

Parking Lot: A place where you leave your car to have dents made in the fenders.

Here's a safe winter driving hint. Start early when planning a winter trip. Be sure to check weather and road conditions. Then adjust driving speed to changing conditions. Take time to live longer.

Thrill: Burning 60 cents worth of gas to save 7 cents on an article you wouldn't buy if it wasn't so cheap.

Does the fellow who takes up double parking space with his car so he will have room to move it, expect to get to heaven, and if so, how?

Mistress (to maid who had just given notice): Haven't we always treated you like one of the family, Mary?

Maid: Yes, ma'am, you have, and I can't stand it any longer.

If the hot air artists could utilize their push during the coming winter they would at least be doing themselves some good.

Upstaters Lead All the Way On Ulster Court

Albany State Teachers' College defeated New Paltz State, 51-40, as the Vandals resumed their schedule last night on the New Paltz court.

Paced by O'Brien who scored 17 points, Albany led at the half, 27-22. Brown's double opened the second half for a 29-22 margin.

Four quick baskets—two by Jack Ross of Kingston, a sensational hook shot by Bellavigna and another by John Ford of Albany to call time with the Palitzers trailing only a point, 29-28.

Ross fouls out. Warden and Fersch dumped in defense. Albany resumed play. Ross scored for New Paltz but a pair of baskets by Brown and O'Brien put the Albanians out of reach. New Paltz's chances suffered a bad blow, too, when Ross fouled out at the 11:59 mark.

High man for New Paltz were Ross and Jackson with seven points. Matthews was runnerup for Albany State with 9.

SIDELINERS: New Paltz displayed their new Blue and Orange warmup jackets for the first time. Cheer leaders also were decked in new outfits. A large crowd came down from Albany. . . . Dancing followed the game and the players were guests at a party thrown by the Delphic Fraternity. . . . The prelim was won by Kappas, 42-29, over the Frosh Blackhaws. . . . "Link" Crosby with 16 and Jake Goumas with four were locals who played with Kappas.

Collegian Injured In First Pro Bout

Worcester, Mass., Jan. 8 (AP)—Alfred A. Mattel of Worcester, a 21-year-old Holy Cross student, today was reported in a critical condition from injuries suffered in his first professional heavyweight boxing bout.

The collegian, billed as "Freddie Mattel," was struck during the left ear during the second round of his scheduled four-round preliminary bout with Edie Zel Jan of Boston, last night before a 1,276 crowd at Mechanics Hall.

The right-hand punch dropped Mattel to his knees but, as Referee Eddie Urbee counted four, he pitched on his face. He was unconscious when Dr. F. A. Weiskner, a Massachusetts Boxing Commission physician, reached him.

Hudson Negro's Body Is Found in River

Hudson, N. Y., Jan. 8 (AP)—A 45-year-old Hudson Negro, sought since the shotgun slaying of a Negroess Thanksgiving night, died of drowning.

The body of William Arthur Reed was taken from the Hudson at Hudson at about 10:30 p. m. There was no evidence of foul play, Police Chief T. Vincent Howe of Hudson reported.

Reed disappeared immediately after the shooting of Mrs. Marguerite Russell, 45, at a party here November 25.

A ticket in his pocket indicated he had bought a shotgun last June at a pawn shop in Albany, police said yesterday.

Just a Contract

Los Angeles, Jan. 8 (AP)—"This is not romance," said Mrs. Adriana Eugenio Nicolson, 90, as she obtained a license to marry her 28-year-old Negro chauffeur. "This is more in the nature of a contract," she explained. "Mr. Woods drives my car, cooks for me and attends to my personal wants. He is a very kind man. I want him to have my property when I am gone." Mrs. Nicolson, white, and the chauffeur, Allen Lee Custard Woods, got the license yesterday. She has been widowed twice and he is divorced. They have not set a wedding date.

Basketball "Fixers" Released On Bail

New York, Jan. 8 (AP)—Four men accused of attempting to "fix" a college basketball game were free today on $20,000 bail each.

The grand jury investigating the case, which adjourned for the week-end yesterday, is scheduled to reconvene Monday.

The four men allegedly tried to bribe David Shapiro, 25, co-captain of the George Washington University basketball team, to "fix" a game with Manhattan College last Tuesday at Madison Square Garden. All four have denied the charges.

Jack Levy, 40, of Miami, and William Rivlin, 43, of New York, were released when their bond was posted Thursday. The other two, Jacob Aronowitz, 35, and Philip Klein, 24, both of Brooklyn, were released yesterday.

Bail originally was set at $50,000 but was reduced.

The Cleveland Browns made 2,557 yards rushing during the 1947 All-American Conference season—and carried exactly the same total in 1948.

Three pitchers in the American League won 20 or more games in 1948. Twenty-game winners were Bob Lemon and Gene Bearden of the Cleveland Indians. Hal Newhouse of Detroit won 21.

Reiser Called His Own Trade:

So eager was Pete Reiser to get away from Branch Rickey and the Dodgers that he went to the Brooklyn president at the close of the 1947 season with an urgent request to be traded.

Rickey told me: "Nobody wants you. How can I make a trade for you? You have my permission to make a deal for yourself," Pete said.

I called on Eddie Dyer of the Cardinals and told him about Rickey's proposition. He said he'd like to have me on the Cardinals, but felt Rickey would place such a high value on me that a trade would be out of the question.

"Then I called on Charlie Grimm. He also admitted he'd like to have me on the Cubs, but said he knew in advance Rickey would place a prohibitive value on my services."

New York state bowling championships will be held in Buffalo from April 20 to May 28 next spring. Secretary George Obenaus says the 75 per cent handicap system instituted last year will pre-empt the one important change in the setup: In addition to handicap prizes, there will be cash awards for the high five scores in each event and squad prizes. Championships will be awarded on high scores WITHOUT handicaps. (Ed Note: That should make Freddie Rice feel a lot happier.)

Steve Belloise Beats Villemain; Frenchman Game But Lacks Power

New York, Jan. 8 (AP)—Robert Villemain is a 100 per cent game Frenchman but he can't punch hard enough to rate as a middleweight title threat.

That was the ringside consensus at Madison Square Garden last night after he lost a decision to Steve Belloise in a "bloody" 10-rounder. It was the first defeat for the stocky Frenchman in 35 pro starts.

Villemain caught the fancy of the crowd of 11,863 who paid $35-968 to see his American debut. Blood streamed from wide cuts around both eyes but he refused to sag. Instead he carried the attack to his older opponent in the late rounds.

Markson Pleased
Harry Markson, director of the 20th Century Sporting Club, was impressed by the courage of the former European welter champ. He wants to bring him back later in the winter. There is some talk of a match with Rocky Castellani of Luzerne, Pa., the "rookie of 1948" but that's still just an idea.

"Butts opened the cuts," said Trainer Jean Bertomel in the dressing room after the scrap. "I didn't see a butt in the fight," said Referee Eddie Joseph.

Declan Unanimous

Joseph, incidentally, gave Villemain the best break of any of the officials. He gave Belloise a slim 6-4 edge. Judge Art Adella had 7-3 and Judge Harold Barnes 7-2 with one even in the unanimous decision for the Bronx veteran.

The A.P. said it 8-1 with one even in favor of Belloise.

Belloise did the heavy damage although he never seemed to have Villemain in a bad way. All through the fight, Steve seemed bewildered when the Frenchman refused to go down after he landed his Sunday punch.

After Belloise opened the deep gash under Villemain's right eye in the fifth, Bertomel thought something of stopping the fight. "I asked the kid," he said. "He said 'no.' If I had stopped it he would have killed me."

Conzelman Quits Grid for Business
Chicago, Jan. 8 (AP)—A St. Louis advertising firm has pulled the biggest coup of the season on the high-bidding pro football market by luring Jimmy Conzelman out of his Chicago Cardinal coaching job and into the business world.

It was done without much effort, since the irrepressible 49-year-old coach in his letter of resignation said he decided to get out of football and settle down to a more normal family life.

As an account executive for the D'Arcy Advertising Company his overfascinated personality, which has made him one of sports most colorful figures, will come in handy. For two years he has worked for the firm on off seasons.

But, as Cardinal President Ray Boninger, puts it: "Will he be happy out of football?" He has been in pro football, off and on since 1920 as player and coach.

Conzelman, 49, of Chicago, was lured from the Cardinals to the business world by the offer of a $25,000-a-year salary and a $10,000-a-year bonus.

Kingston High's Irrepressible Basketball Machine Kept Storming Toward All-State and National Recognition Last Night With a Brilliant 66-54 Conquest of a Hard Fighting Fallsburg Central Quintet on the Sullivan County Boards.

It was the 40th consecutive victory for the Maroon in the historic streak that started against this same Fallsburg club in a non-conference contest in the fourth game of the 1946-47 campaign.

The steady flow of scoring magic overpowered a home club that was geared for a major upset and was achieved despite the absence of two regulars—center Keefe Chambers and guard Joe Albany. Chambers missed the whole game because of illness, while Albany, was forced to quit because of a knee injury early in the first quarter.

Television Show Honors Kingston

Kingston bowlers and bowling activities will be highlighted on a national television hookup Sunday night over the American Broadcasting Company, WJZ, channel 7, during the program from 10 to 11 o'clock. Jimmy Powers, sports editor of the Daily News, and Al Cirillo, famous bowling comedian and emcee, are in charge of the program which features outstanding stars of bowling and other sports fields.

Scheffel, Holstein Star
Kingston moved into undisputed possession of first place in the DUSO with its third straight conference victory, as Newburgh trounced the highly touted Port Jervis brigade, 39-34, with a fourth period spurt.

Those dynamic scoring twins—Scheffel and Holstein—conformed to the Maroon pattern that is grinding inexorably against all opponents. They maintained their 40-point average per game with a 44-point blast.

Holstein piled up 23 markers with 10 deuces and three singletons before fouling out with about four minutes remaining in the final quarter. Scheffel hit 8 times from the field and had five fouls for 21. Other productive scorers were Bud Scheffel, who played center, with 8 and Mort Gazlay, with six.

- (1) We must see to it that our economy guarantees substantially full employment.

- (3) We must strive for the immediate creation of a world federal government to keep the peace.

Memorial
In loving memory of my dad, George J. Brunner, who passed away January 8, 1945.
When evening shadows gather,
And I am sitting here alone,
In my heart there comes a longing,
For you only could come home.
My heart is sad and lonely,
My grief too deep to tell,
Time will come, I care not when,
I with you may dwell.
Signed
Your daughter,
INEZ

Direct Primary Is Asked by Desmond

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 8 (AP)—A new move in the legislature to re-establish direct Primary Election of party candidates for state-wide office was given small chance to success in capitol circles today.

Even supporters of a bill introduced yesterday by Senator Thomas C. Desmond expressed doubt that the measure would become law.

The bill would substitute primaries for the present convention system of choosing candidates for elective state office.

The pessimistic spokesman said the measure would be politically unpopular because it would take away power from the hands of "regulars" and organizations.

Desmond, a Republican from Newburgh, sponsored a similar bill in the Senate in 1946. It was referred to the Judiciary Committee and died there.

At present candidates for governor and other elective state offices are chosen by delegates to party conventions. The delegates are elected in party primaries, but are not committed to support any specific candidate at the convention.

railroad and earned $80 a week and had another income from a business which netted him from $50 to $100 a week and he also had an interest in an estate in Orange county. His income was from $150 to $200 a week, Nar-done said. Mrs. Gerro needs a considerable amount of money for medical treatments, counsel said, and also funds for an operation.

Counsel for Mr. Gerro denied the allegation that Gerro was residing at Clintondale at the Miller place but said Gerro supported the girl who lived at the Miller home. He also denied the large income and said Mr. Gerro had at times earned $75 a week when he worked overtime and that his extra business was selling aluminum household articles and he netted $36 in three weeks. The Orange county estate he said amounted to $400 and there was practically no income from it. Since the marriage last June, counsel told the Court, Gerro had paid $1,200 in medical bills. Mrs. Gerro needed money for medical attention, as much as $12 a week, but he said Gerro was unable to pay any such sums plaintiff demanded from his earnings which were approximately $60 a week.

Justice Schirick reserved decision and gave counsel for defendant five days to file answering affidavits.

Special Meeting Is Called to Vote on Site for School

Voters of Ontario Central School District, comprising the townships of Olive, Shandaken, part of Woodstock and two school districts of Greene county, will vote at a special school meeting Wednesday, January 12, at 7:30 o'clock in the evening on a proposition to purchase a site for the central school building and on a proposition to authorize the raising of money by taxation to pay for the site. The meeting will be at the parish hall in Phenicia.

This meeting, called for the express purposes of determining whether the site shall be bought, and, if that proposal is carried, to authorize the necessary money, will be conducted similar to a common school meeting. The meeting will be called to order, the purpose of the meeting explained and following discussion the vote will be taken on the proposals and the meeting will then be adjourned.

The proposition to be submitted to the voters is whether to purchase a tract of land of approximately 35 acres from the Colange property on Route 28 at Boiceville for the sum of $13,750. This property is located just west on the junction of the Ontario Trail and the South Ashokan boulevard and opposite the former C.C.C. camp site.

By a vote of the people of the district, last June a Central school district was voted. A board of education has been appointed and John Moehle is supervising principal of the district. Reginald Bennett is district superintendent of the supervisory district in which the Central school district is located.

Should the proposition to purchase the site be approved, the next step at some future date will be another special election to vote upon a bond issue to provide money for the erection of a central school building on the site.

depth and scale of the Jewish incursion into Egyptian territory," the ministry said. The second was made against a force dispatched to determine the fate of the missing planes in the first group.

There were these differences in the British and Jewish versions of the clash:

The Jews said four of the downed planes were British and the fifth was Egyptian. At least two and perhaps three were shot down by Israeli fighters and the others by anti-aircraft. A captured British flying officer is being held for Red Cross identification, the Tel Aviv source said. The Jews said the action took place over Rafa.

The British described the clash as occurring 15 miles west of Rafa in Egyptian territory.

course that will bring us to the best solution."

On taxes, not many members were talking. Some predicted privately the President may get the $4,000,000,000 he asked, principally from corporations, but the tax action will depend in large on the size of the government spending program. Congress approves. Many lawmakers are insisting on a balanced budget, even if it takes more taxes.

Senator Myers of Pennsylvania, assistant Senate Democratic floor leader, said he will offer a bill next week to meet the President's request for rent control extension, and other measures are being prepared to embody the rest of the President's program.

Predictions are that Mr. Truman will get a lot, but not all, of the measures he requested.

Hughes Likely Choice For New York Court

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 8 (AP)—Charles Evans Hughes, Jr., was looked upon today as a likely choice for appointment to the New York Court of Appeals.

It was reported reliably here that Governor Dewey had asked him to fill a vacancy on the bench, that he at first declined and then reconsidered.

Hughes' only reply to a reporter's questions yesterday was that he did not choose to discuss the matter.

He served as a U. S. solicitor general for 10 months before his late father became chief justice of the United States Supreme Court. He is a member of a New York city law firm.

If appointed to the state's highest court, he would serve until Dec. 31, and meanwhile probably would stand for election in November for a full 14-year term in the $25,000-a-year post.

Capitol sources figure Dewey believes that Hughes would be endorsed by the Democrats and would strengthen the Republican ticket in an off-year when many mayors and other local officials will be elected.

The high court vacancy occurred last November when Associate Judge Thomas D. Thacher retired. Thacher had been elected to serve through 1951.

Plans for celebration of centennial week have been in progress for several months and it is the hope of the committee that Christians of Kingston will help the Fair Street Church celebrate its one hundred years of worship and service.
